Membership Definitions

Individual membership

Open to librarians, information specialists and others working in all areas of the construction industry, whether as individuals, or in large or small organisations.

Subscription: £30 per year.

Corporate membership

Open to organisations, particularly those wishing to receive extra copies of mailings. With each corporate membership, four copies of mailings are sent, and up to four members may attend meetings, but only one person has voting rights. Individuals working for an organisation may take individual membership if they prefer.

Subscription: £90 per year

Affiliate membership

Open to commercial enterprises and manufacturers who have an interest in promoting construction information, or in library and information services. This category is particularly designed for companies who are willing to sponsor CIIG events, publications etc., in the interests of furthering construction information. Affiliate membership carries no voting rights.

Subscription: £200 per year.

Student / Unwaged

Open to full time students of related Librarianship or Construction Industry recognised courses. This category of membership carries no voting rights.

Subscription: £10 per year.

Retired

Open to previous members of CIIG who have now retired from practice or who are now working less than 10 hours per week.

Subscription: £10 per year.
